

My Arp Wave Story

I started playing golf when I was 9 years old, and got good enough to play through high school, college, and turn professional. Now I mostly teach golf, and I had a student who told me about how Arp Wave technology restored his very damaged and immobile knee. After 25 years of left shoulder pain, I was eager to try Arp Wave; keep in mind over 25 years I've tried chiropractors, physical therapists, deep tissue massage, and even had surgery to try and alleviate the pain. Unfortunately, none of these treatments worked and I settled for dealing with the pain for the rest of my life. The kicker was if I didn't play golf, it wouldn't hurt that much. Not a good alternative for a golf pro.

On April 14th I had my first Arp wave treatment. I was skeptical because nothing else had worked, but I was desperate to move forward and commit to the twenty treatments. By the fourth treatment I was starting to see the light. Half way through the treatments I played my first pain free round of golf in years. I was getting excited for the possibility of no more shoulder pain.

I'm happy to say that after twenty Arp Wave sessions, I have the same ease of motion in my left shoulder as my right shoulder for the first time in 25 years! Above all, my nagging pain is gone. Needless to say, I would recommend this treatment for anyone who suffers from muscle and joint pain.

Dan Palonis

PGA Member

Head Golf Pro, East Bank Club